Upcoming at the Library

After some small hiccups, the library has completed all work on our septic system! Thank you very much to the Nottingham Highway Department for all their great work!

Renovations and updates continue both inside the building and out... next time you visit, be sure to take a look at the backyard! We've got a spectacular new brick path and clearing as well as space for all kinds of fun in the future, including the mud kitchen (with plenty of utensils for play!), the sandbox, seating for parents, raised bed gardens and more on the way!

Our goal is to create a beautiful outdoor space that everyone will be able to enjoy freely, with funding for this transformation coming from a generous grant from Libraries Transforming Communities. Thank you to Tenney and Son Landscaping for their work on construction and Brieghan of Stage Road Gardening for consultation!

Work will continue indoors with the replacement of BML's current carpeting! Although it has held up admirably, moving furniture has really shown how much wear and tear the floor has taken over the decades. As such, the library will be closed for these renovations from Friday, September 27th to Saturday, September 28th. We appreciate your patience with these closures and look forward to a carpet that will last another 25 years!

Brief, For Once!

Ordinarily, this is where I take my time to talk with you all a little more casually... go into not just what we're doing but why. I love this job, we all love to help our patrons, and every step we take towards making BML better for the community is something to get excited about!

But I sprained my wrist the other day, so typing is hard. Oops! So September will be short and next month will be a return to your regularly scheduled rambling.

Change can be tumultuous and messy, but do the leaves not experience chaos as they take on their fall hues? Does the caterpillar not fall apart before it finds form as a butterfly? Yeast becomes bread, sand becomes glass, and promise the library will look really, really nice once we're all done sprucing it up!

Have a good September, take care of your wrists, and I'll see you in the next newsletter!
